We are a an innovative and forward thinking IT services consulting company, working primarily in healthcare, local Government and the NHS; we specialise in integration support and mobile applications.

We offer exciting opportunities in an ever changing environment.

Being forward thinking means that we need to be open to new technologies as well as old and prepared to embrace new ideas. We take a structured yet flexible approach to projects in order to minimise costs and the impact of our carbon footprint.

We believe this type of approach offers benefits not only to the company but also to our teams not forgetting the importance of a work-life balance.

Positions available

We are looking for a Support Analyst, so if you're interested please send your CV to jobs@430pm.bg.